He carefully picks his victims, kills them by using famous magic tricks (think sawing a body in half, escape from a water chamber, etc.), and taunts the police with each new body. Rhyme and Sachs realize they must move fast to catch "the conjurer" because each new death is growing more gruesome, and it's all leading up to the ultimate "magic trick." The Vanished Man? is EXCELLENT!

On a frigid December night, an eerie pattern emerges from two equally brutal murder scenes, where a killer's calling card is a moon-faced clock that seemingly ticked away the victims' last moments. From his wheelchair, criminologist Lincoln Rhyme tracks the Watchmaker, a time-obsessed genius. With every passing second, the Watchmaker is moving with razor-sharp precision to his next act of perfectly orchestrated violence—and Rhyme can't afford to have his trusted partner, Amelia Sachs, distracted by a daunting homicide case of her own. Up against a brilliant madman, Rhyme and Sachs are locked in a blood-chilling race with their deadliest enemy: time itself. . . .
